A NEGRO LEGISLATOR.

Statement.

[From the New York Evening Post.]

About the year 1889 a pantic was raised in several of the Stouthers Bates by the discovery of scattered copies of an inflammatory pamphlet called "Walker's Appeal," which were found have and there in the hands of the more intelligent slaves. David Walker his pamphlet was deviced and written wholly a himself, and invibited at the crosses of of liberty, that led these men in nuccess haste to propher the speedy downfall of your great Republic. Every conceivable argument was used against you.

When we turn in the direction of the Whig party, they have a spiendid record. They are associated with many authime passages in the past history of Righand. This Whig party, strong in its hold upon the communical and middle orders, seemed as a prive compounded by the conflict before it. The try-accest:

I would crawf on my hande and trace through,
